

APRIL 2018

BRANDON QUILTERS

A note from the President-

The weather certainly is showing out this year. You never know if it will be hot or cold or in between. I truly don't remember too many years like this one. Whatever the weather it's always sewing/quilting time, right? It's time to rev up the old noodle and get busy if you are a slow starter like me. Seems that time passes and still nothing sewn or stitched. That has got to change for me and change immediately. I'm a schedule kind of person, so I have to schedule time for almost everything. I've made a contract with myself to at least sew or plan a new project 1 hour a week. If more happens that is just icing on the cake.

And speaking of cake thanks so much to Ann Callender for providing the yummy cakes at our April meeting. I didn't even have to beg her, she volunteered. She is such a sweet and caring person and I'm proud to call her my friend. Hopefully, most if not all of you have good friends you can count on from time to time. Don't forget to be a friend as well. See ya in May.

Sew on.
